Yes. We are back! And yes, it is still very warm.

As most of you know, at this time of year our family is still in cricket mode and it is always very hard to even think about rugby let alone play it. But we also get very excited that we are at the start of another great season.

Training starts tomorrow night, for those of you who can make it, so make sure the boys start drinking lots of water in the afternoon.

See you all there.
